

Dear Parents,

The teachers and all the faculties at VVDAV are creating and sharing a comprehensive instructional plan to meet the academic needs of students during the period of lockdown.

We request the parents/ guardians who are also our partners in education to reinforce certain guidelines as a Continuum of instructions for the benefit of students.

Let us encourage experiential learning wherein the child experiences what is learnt. This gives an in-depth understanding of concepts. Kitchen can be a hub of learning. Daily household chores can be a source of experience in life skills . All stem- based subjects can be given practical application at home under the guidance of parents.

Children can be encouraged to contribute to the upkeep of home, growing useful herbs, eg the seed pencils and pens promoted through Vedakshar . Try to renew interest in Indian culture, value systems , Yoga and meditation.

Lets teach gen next to have an economical lifestyle. Emphasise on the use of technology but at the same time guide them in its the safe and productive use. Support and encourage the use of online class portals for creativity, research based learning, making presentations and short films in order to curate learning.

Ensure that your ward follows only reliable digital /e learning platforms provided by HRD. And also those curated by their teachers .

Physical education art and craft exercises are also shared regularly by the teachers .

I sincerely hope that you will take up these activities to widen the scope and enhance the learning opportunities for students.

Stay home ,stay safe
